situation: Experiential concept store for OPSM across 1500 square metres solution: e2's innovative and challenging brief demanded continuous ceiling flows with precise curved corner details. Atkar's Au.diPanel was the perfect solution to deliver on the architect's vision across this extensive site. Both perforated and solid panels were installed with no visible fixings, integrating perfectly with angled feature walls and bulkheads. Using specific products and processes, Atkar designed and developed a solution that was beyond expectations, contributing to the stunning success of this world-first concept store.
